

WORKSHOP: The Williamson Act and Rangeland Conservation in California

*Responding to Rapid Environmental Change,
Integrative Graduate Education and Research Traineeship (REACH IGERT)
University of California, Davis*

in partnership with the California Cattlemen's Association

Please join us for a day focused on rangeland conservation and ranching economies in an unsure future of the Williamson Act. Local and state leaders, academics, conservation professionals, and land owners will come together to investigate the role of the Williamson Act in shaping California's regional landscapes and economies.

Date: September 14th, 9am-4pm

Location: UC Davis, Plant and Environmental Sciences 3001

Free registration, attendance limited, refreshments provided

RSVP to waproject.ucd@gmail.com by August 1st and include your name and organizational affiliation

National Science Foundation
WHERE DISCOVERIES BEGIN
NSF DGE# 0801430 to UC Davis

UC DAVIS
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

responding to rapid environmental change

REACH
IGERT