

UC ANR Urban Agriculture Workshop series

Workshop #2: Legal Basics of Urban Farming

Date: Friday, April 6, 2018, 9:00AM - 4:00PM

Location: Yolo Brewing, 1520 Terminal Street, West Sacramento, CA 95691

Description: Covers types of urban farm enterprises, zoning issues, soil testing, required permits and licenses, and introduction to key local resources including Agricultural Commissioner and UCCE staff

| Time             | Agenda                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
|------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 8:30 – 9:00 am   | Registration and Refreshments                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 9:00 – 9:15 am   | WelcomeTopic: Welcome from UC ANR & The Center for Land Based LearningSpeakers: Rob Benneton, Urban Agriculture Advisor, UC Cooperative Extension (UCCE) for Alameda County, Sara Bernal, Center for Land Based Learning |
| 9:15 – 9:30 am   | Participant Introductions                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 9:30 – 10:40 am  | Topic: Legal Basics General Overview: Permits, Licenses & Regulations for Urban AgricultureSpeaker: Julia Van Soelen Kim, North Bay Food Systems Advisor, UC Cooperative Extension (UCCE)                                           |
| 10:40 – 10:55 am | BREAK                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 10:55 – 11:55 am | Topic: Food Law: An OverviewSpeaker: Christina Oatfield, Policy Director, Sustainable Economies Law Center                                                                                                                          |
| 12:00 – 12:45 pm | LUNCH                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 12:50 – 1:20 pm  | Topic: An Urban Farming Perspective from the Dept. of Environmental ManagementSpeaker: Mark Barcellos, Sacramento Co. Dept. of Environmental Management                                                                             |
| 1:20 – 1:50 pm   | Topic: An Introduction to the Agriculture Weights & Measures DepartmentSpeaker: Chris Flores, Sacramento County Chief Deputy Agricultural Commissioner                                                                              |
| 1:50 – 2:00 pm   | BREAK                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 2:00 – 2:20 pm   | Topic: Update on Sacramento Urban Agriculture Legislation and IssuesSpeaker: Paul Towers, Sacramento Food Policy Council                                                                                                            |
| 2:20 – 3:20 pm   | Full group discussion: Q&A Panel with all speakers                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 3:20 – 3:30 pm   | Closing, Evaluation                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 3:30 – 4:00 pm   | Optional Car Pool to nearby Center for Land Based Learning Incubator Farm for tour and discussion of operations                                                                                                                                       |

In cooperation with local partners:

