

HREC VISITOR Ground Rules:

All visitors must sign in and out of the office on arrival and departure, including a cell phone number. This ensures that we know who is on the site and can contact you in the case of a fire or other emergency .

- Most visits will only require access to the office, accommodations, and the Rod Shippey Hall (please see map for clarification). Please remain in these areas unless prior arrangement with staff allows you access to other areas of the site. Please respect the privacy of our residents during your visit.

If you have gained prior agreement with staff and are accessing other areas of the site:

- Please avoid the sheep and cattle as much as possible and discuss appropriate behavior around these animals with a member of staff. Guard dogs are protecting our sheep and may challenge you by barking (though they are not dangerous to humans). While some of our dogs may seem lazy or friendly, please respect that these are working animals and all contact with them should be avoided.
- Rattlesnakes, ticks and large predators do live on HREC property. We expect all of our visitors to be well informed to minimize risks associated with this wildlife. Always check yourself and your clothing thoroughly for ticks following a visit to our site.
- No vehicles are permitted off road. Stay on marked roads. If you must leave your vehicle for your research or other work, please take precautions as mentioned above regarding potentially dangerous species.
- Avoid spreading invasive plant species. Check your clothing and vehicle when you are about to leave any part of the site and remove seeds/grasses that may have attached themselves.
- Leave gates as you find them – if closed and locked, leave it closed and locked! If open, leave open.
- Due to our use of guard dogs to protect our sheep at HREC, NO DOGS are allowed on the site.
- NO tobacco use is permitted on the entire site.
